

DAILY EXERCISES

WEEK ONE/DAY ONE

Theme: From Unfreedom to Freedom

MORNING EXERCISES

Here are The Exercises for the first day of the first week of your retreat. In a spirit of experiencing The Exercises 'in slow motion', you are invited to focus each day this week on a different highlighted segment. Feel free to spend time with the teaching or question that most speaks to you in the moment. Eventually, you will be guided into a user-friendly way to put all of the exercises together in a way that works best for you.

Today: Allow about 15 minutes at the beginning of your day to reflect and journal on Points #1 and #2. Conclude your devotional time by setting the intention for the day that is suggested in Point #6.

1. WISDOM FROM THE SPIRITUAL EXERCISES

Take a few moments to quiet your mind and welcome the following teaching. Before starting your morning exercise, it is best to spend a few moments getting grounded through a favorite meditation practice or, consider using the simple breathing exercise described on R2 of your online site resources.

The whole purpose of The Exercises is about gaining spiritual freedom. Spiritual freedom will involve the whole person—penetrating the biological and psychological spheres of our existence as well as our spiritual selves. Spiritual freedom is to discover the freedom not to have to get rid of our unfreedoms.

Spiritual Freedom, John English, SJ

2. QUESTIONS FOR DISCERNMENT

Consider journaling today by noting 'what arises in you' as you consider any of these questions for discernment:

-Identify an insight from the teaching: 'to embrace freedom is NOT to have to get rid of your unfreedoms.'

-How could this paradox offer greater peace in your life?

-How could this wisdom contribute to being more loving to yourself?

3. ENNEAGRAM INSIGHT

Simply observe how the following Enneagram insight complements today's teachings.

The value of the Enneagram is to have the freedom to become more fully who I am accepting both my gifts and weaknesses instead of trying to become who I am not.

Richard Groves, Sacred Art of Living

4. ENNEAGRAM AWARENESS

Spend a few minutes with the AFFIRMATIONS of your Ennea-style in the online Enneagram Transformations document (E3). Consider making a journal entry which you could return to at the end of the day. If you are unfamiliar with the Enneagram, you might also consider the Affirmations and Releases for Style #1 since that is the focus style of the week.

- Identify which of the AFFIRMATIONS echoes an area of freedom in your life.
- Which one may especially be asking for attention?

5. DEVOTIONAL REFLECTION: The freedom to soar

Choose one of the following passages and one of its points for reflection as a way to enter into a period of prayerful intention. This is not so much a time for analysis but for reflection. Choose whatever form of devotional prayer or meditation you like to complement the passages. Always end your reflection time with a moment of gratitude and 'savoring.'

SCRIPTURE OPTION A

From the Hebrew Scriptures: Be patient as you are continually being renewed by the promise of your Beloved. You will soar in freedom on the wings of eagles. You will run but not grow weary; wherever you shall walk, you will not grow tired. Isaiah 40:31

POINTS FOR REFLECTION

- Consider a time when you felt 'lifted up' by someone/something greater than yourself.
- When do you feel most free?
- Offer gratitude for a time when you found the strength 'to keep on going even when the going was tough?' Savor the experience.

POETRY OPTION B

From the Sufi Poet, Rumi: Physical existence is so cramped. We grow old and are bent over like embryos. Nine months pass and it is time to be born... but there are ways of being born twice, of coming to where you fly, not individually like birds but as the sun moves across the sky with its bride. From Another City

POINTS FOR REFLECTION:

- Consider how Rumi describes what it is like to be born.
- How have you experienced being 'born twice'?
- Offer gratitude for a time when you felt the freedom to soar and move 'together with your beloved.' Savor the experience.

6. INTENTION FOR THE DAY

Make an intention to notice where you feel most free and unfree today. Try just to notice and not judge.

MID DAY EXERCISES

(5-10 minutes)

1. MINI-EXAMEN: HOLY NOTICING

Take a few quiet moments to return to your breath and remember your intention for the day.

-Is there an observation from the morning worth noting?

-Renew your intention for the remainder of the day:

Notice where you feel most free or unfree today. Try just to notice and not judge.

2. GRATITUDE

Identify at least one experience so far today for which you are grateful

-Breathe a prayer of gratitude for a few minutes. Recall the Merton teaching, "How I pray is breathe."

-You might try a traditional spiritual breath practice of inhaling on the count of three and breathing out on the count of six. Try this for about one minute.

END-OF-THE-DAY EXERCISES

(About 20 minutes)

1. THE EXAMEN

The daily Examen is the heart of the Spiritual Exercises. This is an opportunity to take a long, loving look back over your day where, 'We recognize the Beloved in the nitty gritty of life and we bring the nitty gritty back to the Beloved.' This exercise is an examination of consciousness (clear awareness) NOT an examination of conscience--focused on faults and failings. By being faithful to this practice and journaling your insights, patterns will emerge over thirty days including awareness from your unconscious that would normally have been missed in everyday activity.

Take a few moments to quiet your mind before starting the end of the day examen. Consider returning to the simple breathing exercise described on R15 of your online site resources.

-The EXAMEN should take about fifteen minutes. During this reflection time, you can use the following five R's to help guide your time:

REQUEST the presence of Spirit (however you imagine it) to lead you through the review of the day

RELISH the moments that went well and gifts received today

REVIEW (walk back through your day) using the suggested focus questions* as your guide. What would it be like to talk to God about this... or imagine doing this with someone you love.

FOCUS QUESTIONS FOR TODAY'S EXAMEN:

- Where did I most find freedom today?
- Where did I least find freedom today?

REPENT for any mistakes or failures by simply acknowledging them without drama or self-loathing. If you feel called to at-one-ment with another, the Beloved or yourself, note that desire for whenever an appropriate time arises.

RESOLVE with a concrete intention to live tomorrow consciously and freely.

2. DISCERNMENT JOURNAL

Without a daily journal it would not be possible to track the sometimes subtle spiritual movements in every day experiences. Spend a few minutes making entries that reflect today's experiences and learnings. Here everything belongs, both the gifts and the challenges.
