

Ode to Snow

Oh the snow, the glorious snow.
How you bring joy to a cold, dark and dreary time
Your beautiful white colour cleanses the earth
You bring light to the darkness of winter
You bring moisture to the resting earth
You bring a blanket of warmth to all of nature
And for us humans on the journey your symbolism helps us prepare
To be open to our pain, feel it and let it go with an open heart
You help us to prepare ourselves to receive the coming of the light at Christmas time
Where we renew our faith and renew our light to shine brightly for ourselves, others and the world.

Cathy King

November 2025